Using the framing grid to compose a picture

The framing grid divides the LCD into thirds—vertically and horizontally. This is helpful if, for example, you want to balance a picture between water, earth, and sky.

To turn on/off the framing grid, see page 31.

NOTE: Settings you change in P or M mode apply only to pictures taken in that mode. For example, if you change the Color Mode to Sepia while in P or M mode, you retain the default setting of Color for Smart scene and Scene modes. The settings, including Flash, are maintained for P and M modes—even when you change modes or turn off the camera.
Doing more with your camera

Changing P or M mode settings

P/M modes control ISO, Focus, exposure compensation, shutter speed, and aperture (f-number, also known as f-stop). Use the Menu button to control all other settings.

1. Turn the Mode dial to P/M.
   The mode options are displayed.

2. Use  to move between settings and  to change the value.
   NOTE: Some settings may be unavailable (see P/M color options above). The arrows disappear when you cannot make further value changes.

3. Take a picture.

P/M mode—see page 33.

ISO speed—adjust the camera’s sensitivity to light. Higher ISO indicates greater sensitivity. ISO 3200 is available only in 1.2, 2.1, 2.2, and 3.1 MP picture size (see page 27).

NOTE: A higher ISO may produce unwanted “noise” in a picture.

Exposure Compensation—adjust the exposure; good for controlling backlit or non-standard scenes. If the picture is too light, decrease the setting; if it’s too dark, increase the setting.
Doing more with your camera

Shutter speed—control how long the shutter stays open.

Aperture—(also known as f-stop) control the size of the lens opening, which determines the depth of field.

- Smaller f-stop numbers indicate a larger lens opening; good for portraits and low-light conditions.
- Larger f-stop numbers indicate a smaller lens opening; keeps the main subject sharp; good for landscapes and well-lit conditions.

Focus mode—select a large or concentrated area of focus.

1. In most Still modes, press the Self-timer/Burst button 📸ientes.

   NOTE: Burst is unavailable in Portrait, Night Portrait, Night Landscape, Backlight, Fireworks, and Panorama modes.

2. Press the Shutter button halfway to focus and set exposure.

3. Press the Shutter button completely down and hold it to take pictures.

   The camera stops taking pictures when you release the Shutter button, when the pictures are taken, or when there is no more storage space.

   NOTE: During quickview, you can delete all pictures in the burst series. To delete selectively, do so in Review (see page 15).
Using exposure compensation to adjust picture brightness

In P/M and Panorama modes, you can adjust exposure compensation before you take a picture to make your pictures darker or lighter. Only the first picture in Panorama mode can be adjusted—that adjustment is applied to the remaining pictures.

1. Press \( \downarrow \) to decrease exposure compensation.

2. Press \( \uparrow \) to increase exposure compensation.

An exposure compensation level between -2.0 and +2.0 is shown on the LCD as the LCD image gets darker or lighter.

3. Take the picture when you are satisfied with the exposure compensation level.

Using exposure compensation with exposure bracketing

In P/M modes, you can use exposure compensation (see page 37) in conjunction with exposure bracketing to get the best exposure.

Using the histogram to view picture brightness

Use the histogram to evaluate the distribution of light before or after you take a picture. If the peak is to the right of the graph, the subject is bright; if it's to the left, the subject is dark. Optimal exposure is achieved when the peak is in the middle of the histogram.

To turn on the histogram in P/M mode or in Review, press the Info button until the histogram appears.

NOTE: If a scene is dark or light, you can adjust the exposure compensation (see page 37) before taking the picture. The flash may affect a picture’s light and shadow.
